Status

Statutory

(As part of the Children's and Families Act 2014, this policy complies with the statutory requirement laid out in the SEND Code of Practice 0-25 years June 2014 (updated 2020)).

Named Personnel

SENCO: Matt Pringle

SEND Governor: Alison Dodwell-Cooke

Definition

A child or young person has SEND if a child or young person has a learning difficulty or disability which calls for special educational provision to be made for him or her.

A child of compulsory school age or young person has a learning difficulty or disability if he or she has:

- significantly greater difficulty in learning than the majority of others the same age or
- a disability which prevents or hinders him or her from making use of facilities of a kind generally provided for others of the same age in mainstream schools or mainstream post-16 institutions.

Disabled children and young people

People who have SEND may have a disability under the Equality Act 2010- that is 'a physical or mental impairment which has a long-term and substantial adverse effect on their ability to carry out normal day-to-day activities'. 'Long-term' is defined as 'a year or more' and 'substantial' is defined as 'more than minor or trivial'. This definition includes sensory impairments such as those affecting sight or hearing, and long-term health conditions such as asthma, diabetes, epilepsy, and cancer. Children with such conditions do not necessarily have SEND, but there is a considerable overlap. Where a disabled child or young person requires special educational provision, they will also be covered by the SEND definition.

It should be noted that this definition of learning difficulty does not apply to students that have learning difficulties solely because his/her language is different from the language in which he/she will receive his/her education.

Purpose

At Weaverham and Tarporley High School and Sixth Form College, we believe in everyday excellence and in supporting every student to become the best version of themselves. We are committed to the belief that all children can exceed expectations, regardless of their prior attainment or experiences. This belief is underpinned by a whole-school approach that promotes access, participation, and achievement for all. Teachers and teaching assistants share responsibility for the progress and development of every student, including those they directly support. We actively promote awareness and understanding of special educational needs and disabilities among staff and students, fostering a culture of inclusion, acceptance, and celebration of diversity across our schools.

Relationship to other policies

This policy should be read in conjunction with the policies on teaching and learning, the school curriculum, equality and assessment, recording and reporting. The accessibility plan is an integral part of this policy.

This policy complies with the statutory requirement laid out in the SEND Code of Practice 0-25 years June 2014 and has been written with reference to the following guidance and documents:

- Equality Act 2010: advice for schools DfE Feb 2013
- SEND code of Practice 0-25 (June 2014) Updated 2020
- Schools SEND Information Report Regulations (2014)
- Statutory Guidance on Supporting pupils at school with medical conditions April 2014
- Safeguarding Policy
- Accessibility Plan
- Teachers Standards 2012 (Updated 2021)

Aims

- To ensure that every student achieves the expected outcomes set out in the Every Child Matters agenda: to be healthy; to be safe; to enjoy and achieve; to make a positive contribution to our community; to enjoy social and economic well-being.
- To ensure that all SEND students receive their full entitlement to a high-quality education within a broad, balanced and relevant curriculum, including access to the National Curriculum, so that they can reach their full potential.
- To educate SEND students, wherever possible alongside their peers within the mainstream classroom setting, with learning support assistants supporting students in mainstream lessons as necessary and within available resources.
- To promote intellectual, emotional, social and physical development.
- To identify and assess students with SEND as early and as thoroughly as possible, fully involving parents and students in the early identification, assessment and delivery of SEND.
- To encourage, promote and seek close co-operation between all agencies concerned for a multi-disciplinary approach to education.
- To stimulate, promote and maintain student enjoyment and interest in his/her own education and ensure that students with SEND take part in all school activities.
- To conduct regular reviews of student progress, ensuring that parents of SEND children are kept fully informed of their child's attainment and progress.
- To ensure that all school staff are aware of each student's needs so that such needs can be met in all school settings.
- To provide CPD opportunities and training for all staff involved in the care and teaching of students with SEND, to ensure that students' needs can be met in the mainstream setting.
- To ensure that no student is discriminated against, in any area of school life, on the basis of his/her ability.

Objectives

- Educational provision is achieved through integration into the mainstream school. The school uses its best endeavours to make sure that a child with SEND gets the support they need - this means doing everything they can to meet children and young people's SEND. Sensitive and creative adaptation of the curriculum may be required. This can be done by adopting appropriate teaching methods and resources which are sensitive to the area of SEND. One of the key roles of the SEN department is to raise awareness with staff of these issues and to support them to deliver the curriculum to maximum effect.
- The identification of SEND is built into the overall approach to monitoring the progress and development of all pupils. The school's arrangements for assessing and identifying pupils are agreed and set out as part of the Local Offer.
- The school regularly reviews and evaluates the breadth and impact of the support offered and accessed, in conjunction with reviewing the provision that is available locally through the Local Offer. The school has a duty to collaborate with other local education providers to explore the most effective way to meet students' needs.
- The school has a duty under the Equality Act 2010 towards individual disabled children and young people to make reasonable adjustments, including the provision of auxiliary aids and services to prevent them from being put at a substantial disadvantage.
- The SEND department offers advice to subject teachers and other departments on employing adapted teaching methods and resources. Also working with subject teachers, parents and students in developing interventions and approaches to enhancing student self-esteem.
- The SEND department ensures that subject staff are fully informed of the SEND of any students in their care. Information is shared with staff on a confidential basis via the SEND register and MIS systems. This information is updated and monitored regularly.
- Lessons are conducted in a secure, supportive and disciplined manner. Students and staff interact in a manner that demonstrates mutual respect.
- Whilst many factors contribute to the range of difficulties experienced by some children, we believe that much can be done to overcome them by parents, teachers and students working together.
- Research continues to show that multi-sensory teaching and learning strategies used to support dyslexic students are of real benefit to all learners. The SEND department will continue to share strategies with staff to embed in their teaching.

Roles and responsibilities of headteacher, other staff, governors

Provision for children with special educational needs is a matter for the school as a whole. It is each teacher's responsibility to provide for pupils with SEND in his/her class, and to be aware that these needs may be present in different learning situations.

COP 6.4 – The quality of teaching for pupils with SEND, and the progress made by pupils should be a core part of the school's performance management arrangements and its approach to professional development for all teaching and support staff.

All staff are responsible for helping to meet an individual's special educational needs and for following the school's procedures for identifying, assessing and making provision to meet those needs.

The governing body, in co-operation with the headteacher, has a legal responsibility for determining the policy and provision for pupils with SEND. It maintains a general overview and has appointed a representative governor (the SEND governor), who takes particular interest in this aspect of the school.

- A SEND governor representative is appointed to work alongside the SEND co-ordinator.
- The necessary provision is made for any pupil with SEND
- All staff are aware of the need to identify and provide for pupils with SEND
- Pupils with SEND join in school activities alongside other pupils, as far as is reasonably practical and compatible with their needs and the efficient education of other pupils

- Maintaining the school's SEND register and records
- Assisting in the monitoring and evaluation of progress of pupils with SEND through the use of school assessment information
- Contributing to the in-service training of staff

Class teachers are responsible for:

- Including pupils with SEND in the classroom, and for providing an appropriately differentiated curriculum. They can draw on the SENCO for advice on assessment and strategies to support inclusion, for providing an appropriately differentiated curriculum incorporating dyslexic-friendly classroom strategies.
- Making themselves aware of this policy and procedures for identification, monitoring and supporting pupils with SEND

Arrangements for monitoring and evaluation of effectiveness of provision

The success of the school's SEND policy and provision is evaluated through school self-evaluation and reporting activities such as:

- monitoring of classroom practice
- analysis of pupil tracking data and test results for individual pupils and for cohorts
- data analysis for pupils on the SEND register
- monitoring of procedures and practice by the SEND governor(s)
- the school profile and the prospectus, which contains the required information about the implementation and success of the SEND policy
- the school improvement plan, which is used for planning and monitoring provision in the school
- visits from Local Authority personnel and Ofsted inspection arrangements
- feedback from parents and staff, both formal and informal, following meetings to produce targets, revise provision and celebrate success.

Additional Information

Identification and Assessment of SEND

A student's needs may become apparent through:

- Admission procedures. This process usually starts through liaison with our primary feeder schools. There is a robust transition programme in place led by Head of Year 7 and SENCO, which involves visits our feeder schools to meet teachers prior to transition.
- Teacher observation
- Parental concerns
- Student raising concerns about themselves or their progress
- GP consultation
- Further specialist assessment made by SEND department or external agency.

It is recognised that SEND may manifest themselves at any stage during a student's time in school. These needs may be temporary or long term.

Students who give cause for concern are screened using a range of assessments according to the nature of the concern. Staff have a responsibility to identify students in their groups whom they feel have any unidentified SEND and refer to the appropriate Head of Year/Subject Leader who will then refer to the SENCO if appropriate. Any health concerns raised are referred to the School Health Service.

SEN Register

The SEN register (Special Educational Needs register) is a record maintained by schools that lists all pupils identified as having special educational needs (SEN). It is not a formal government register, but an internal school document used to ensure appropriate support is provided.

The SEN Register is reviewed three times per academic year, in line with the school census. Students may be added to or removed from the register based on their current level of need.

Diagnosis

A diagnosis such as autism, ADHD, or dyslexia does not automatically place a child on the SEND register. Instead, the school may initially place the child on a Monitoring Register, which records their diagnosis and helps staff remain aware of their potential needs.

SEN Budget

Schools receive a notional SEN budget based on the school census to support students with special educational needs. This funding is not ringfenced and is used flexibly across the school; it is not directly allocated to individual students or specific interventions.

SEND Monitoring Criteria

Students placed on the Monitoring Register typically meet the following criteria:

- Have a diagnosis but are coping well with high-quality, inclusive (Quality First) teaching.
- Access general support available to all students, such as time-out cards, IDL programmes, or regular check-ins.
- Are identified through concerns raised by staff, parents, the student, or during the transition process.
- May require certain information to be shared with staff (e.g., the student prefers not to be asked questions without prior warning).
- The Monitoring Register is reviewed three times a year in accordance with the school census.

SEND K Criteria

Students are categorised as SEND K and placed on the SEN Register if they meet one or more of the following:

- They are not making expected progress compared to peers and show a significant gap in learning.
- External agencies are involved in their support (e.g., Autism Team, SPOTTS, School Nurse).
- They require physical adaptations in the school environment (e.g., modified papers or specialised equipment).
- They access the school's SEND Base STEPS.
- They receive targeted, evidence-based interventions tailored to their individual needs.

SEND E Criteria

Students may be moved to SEND E status (Education, Health and Care Plan - EHCP) if:

- They require long-term, intensive interventions delivered with regularity.
- Their difficulties are persistent, significant, and remain despite the school's best efforts using high-quality interventions.
- The cost of their provision exceeds the school's allocated core SEN funding.

Types of Intervention:

Intervention within these levels of SEND may include:

- Adaptation of activities and materials for curriculum access
- Appropriate setting and review of targets
- Targeted support by Teaching Assistants, under guidance from the SENCO
- Individual tuition to support with area of SEND by specialist teacher, external agency staff or TA's
- Access to ICT or other specialist equipment/materials as necessary and available
- Opportunity to attend appropriate group work sessions as deemed appropriate by SENCO e.g. anger management, social skills groups, dyslexia support, extra literacy or numeracy
- Access to areas during unstructured times of the school day e.g. STEPS which is staffed in a closely supervised environment, where targeted interventions take place.

The Graduated Approach

Target setting - Assess, plan, review, do

Following advice from relevant staff and external agencies, strategies are put in place and implemented as much as possible in the classroom. Student strategies are held on Provision Map for staff to see and use. Outside agencies, students, parents and the SENCO monitor and review progress each term at parents evenings/progress evenings.

1. The short term targets set for the student
2. The actions (including teaching strategies and provision to be used)
3. The outcomes of the action taken

Timetabling

Where students are withdrawn from lessons for individual tuition, the SENCO will liaise with subject teachers to ensure key subject content is covered. In some cases, a student may need to be withdrawn from a subject on a longer-term basis. Here the main priority is to maintain access to a broadly based curriculum.

Exam procedures

In exam conditions students should be enabled to show what they know and what they have learned rather than what they are unable to do. When this is approved by the exam board, extra time is allowed wherever a student's reading or writing speed is significantly below his/her chronological age or level. In some cases, students may sit their exams with a TA in order for exam questions to be read aloud and/or answers scribed as appropriate, this should be inline with their normal way of working in lessons.

Access and Special Facilities

Lift access is available in D block. There is also a disabled toilet in the first floor of D block.

The school has ramped access to all buildings so that access is available for all.

Involvement with External Agencies

The Sandstone Trust supports a multi-disciplinary approach to maximise the provision for SEND students. Many agencies and support services are able to help identify, assess and provide support for SEND students. Parents are informed in order that they can fully understand the measures school takes. Parents are always required to give their consent for the SEND department to consult with relevant professionals and other agencies. Parents are encouraged to discuss any problems or concerns with the school.

The SEND Department currently works with the following services:

- Assessment and Monitoring Team

- Cheshire Autism Team
- Child and Adolescent Mental Health Service (CAMHS)
- Educational Psychology service
- Educational Welfare Service
- Medical Needs Service
- Physiotherapy
- Police School Liaison Officer
- Social Care
- Specialist teams within Cheshire West and Chester supporting students with visual impairment and hearing impairments
- Occupational Therapy
- Speech and Language Therapy Service
- Young Carers
- Youth Offending Service Early Intervention (YOS)
- Youth Offending Team (YOT)

Monitoring and Assessment of the Progress of SEND Students

SEND students' progress is monitored and assessed through:

- The analysis of student tracking data and test results for individual SEND students in comparison to Fisher Family Trust data and teacher target grades. Termly monitoring of progress made in English, Mathematics and Science (tracking data taken from subject teachers).
- Year 7 assessments of reading, spelling and phonological awareness are carried out using the New Group Reading Test.
- Verbal feedback from staff, parents and students.
- Support plans are drawn up and targets set for some SEND students. These targets refer specifically to areas of SEND. Progress is monitored termly and new targets set accordingly.
- Students are directly involved in the drawing and reviewing up of the targets using Improvement Plans.
- The monitoring of classroom practice

If it is felt that even with external agency advice and support any students needs are not being met the local authority may carry out an assessment to examine further what an individual child's special educational needs are and how they can be supported. This may result in an EHC plan being allocated to ensure the student's needs are adequately met.
